

ECO FRIENDLY

ASANDERUS' ENVIRONMENTAL CARE.

We care about the environment. And we think about future generations. Not only do we produce textile wall coverings that last a lifetime, we also make sure that we keep our ecological footprint as small as possible. And that is a fact. Although we do not have the 14001 ISO certificate, our company does meet all the current environmental laws and requirements.

For one, we are very strict when it comes to waste management. Nothing we use or produce is lost. We have different recycle bins to our disposal to sort paper, glass, metal, wood, plastics, batteries, lamps and electrical devices. Every two weeks a specialised company collects all our waste separately. It's only a small effort, but it makes a big ecological difference.

As far as the selection of our raw materials goes we make sure that they have been produced in an environment friendly way and that they meet the Oeko-Tex standard. We only work with raw materials that are free from harmful substances. Furthermore, we do not use solvents. All our coating products are water based. We do care for air and water. This has resulted in installing our own water and air purification system.

Taking care of your interior starts outside. We have got it covered.
